SPRING!

Finally, we are seeing some spring like weather!! I was beginning to wonder if we would!! We are going to spend the next few weeks talking about signs of spring, worms (The kids LOVE digging in the pea gravel for them! I don't understand the fascination, but what do you do? Study them, of course!), butterflies and plants. We will also do some transitioning activities like introducing them to the TK and Kindergarten teachers. We will go to Mrs. Dykstra's, Mrs. Thomson's, and Mrs. Carlson's classrooms. They will read a story to the kids and tell them a little bit about TK and Kindergarten. Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. Bahrenfus (our Literacy Specialist) came in and did a Kindergarten Readiness Screen with the kids this week. We will be sharing that information with you via mail as soon as we have all of it put together.

FLOWERS GROW

(Sung to the tune of "Down By the Station")

Down in the dark earth,
Early in the springtime,
See the little sprouts
Start poking through the ground.

See the stems a-growing!
See the leaves unfolding!
Up, up, up, up----
Flowers grow!

RAIN

(An Action Poem)

Here come the clouds,
And down falls the rain,
Falling on my roof,
And my windowpane.

Gone are the clouds,
And gone is the rain.
Now the sun is shining brightly
On my windowpane.
