

Backpack 4 Kids Project

The CASE 2 class at South O'Brien High School is adding another entrepreneurial piece to their curriculum. It is the Backpack 4 Kids Project. Food and money donations are being accepted at the school for children needing food over the weekend or over a long holiday. The class, taught by Mrs. Negus, will sack up food each week and deliver to kids in need of nourishment for the weekend in their backpacks. This will be a community service project. The class already runs the Wolverine Snack Shack serving healthy snacks four days a week.

Anyone wishing to donate or find out more about the project may contact Kathleen Negus at the high school (712-949-2115) or drop off donated items at the Central Office. Checks may be made out to South O'Brien Community School with Backpack 4 Kids in the memo. Suggested non- perishable items to donate:

- peanut butter
- crackers
- snack pack cookies or chips
- snack packs of fruit or pudding
- cereal
- granola bars
- juice boxes
- soups
- macaroni and cheese
- microwavable meals
- canned meats
- instant oatmeal
